ABRAHAM COLEMAN

FRONT-END WEB DEVELOPER

ABOUT ME

I graduated from the University of Northern Iowa in the spring of 2015, with a degree in Computer Science. The University of Northern Iowa introduced me to Drupal in 2013, and I've been interested in web development ever since. I was among the top of the class when the crash course in Drupal ended, and developed several different websites for the university. My time at the University of Nebraska was immensely important to my career, as I learned more than I thought possible about development, accessibility, and validation. I love my job at Nelnet Business Solutions, and I enjoy working with my talented team every day.

EXPERIENCE

Web Designer/Developer | Nelnet Business Solutions   2017 - Present

Collaborate with the Content Management Team to design, develop, and refresh website for Content Management System. Implement look and feel decisions utilizing JavaScript, HTML 5 and CSS. Protect site content by designing, implementing and adhering to security standards for website development and/or procedures.

Front-End Web Developer | University of Nebraska   2015 - 2017
